What Makes These Emails Work

- Segmented: each email is written for one audience, with the offer that matters to them.
- Personal: first name (B2C) or contact name (B2B) in the greeting, and in the subject line where it fits.
- One call to action: one clear button per email, placed after the offer.
- A/B test: two subject lines per email. Send each to 10% to 20% of the list, then send the winning subject line to everyone else. For very small B2B lists, skip the test and use Subject A.
- Mobile first: short paragraphs, a single column and subject lines of about 50 characters or fewer, so they read well on a phone.
- Compliance: unsubscribe link, store address and T&Cs line in every footer. The footer wording differs for B2C and B2B recipients.
